Minister Public Works Visits Crows' Nest Pass

Desires To Acquaint Himself With Highway Conditions At First Hand.

In fulfillment of a promise made by the minister of public works to a delegation from the Crows' Nest Pass Highway Association to Edmonton recently, The Pass was this week favored with a visit from the Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of public works; Hon. Archie McLean, provincial secretary; Mr. Robertson, chief engineer, and Mr. Calder, inspector of public works, who in company with the members of the local association and friends journeyed on Wednesday afternoon to the shores of Crows' Nest Lake, wherein in company with J. E. Woods, of Pincher Creek, they were shown over the route of the proposed new inter-provincial highway along the south shore of Crows' Nest Lake.

Prior to repatriating to the lake, the visitors were taken towards the Summit on the old road, to show them the condition of that thoroughfare at this late season of the year. Quite near the base of the Summit snow was not in such quantities as will make road traffic impossible for at least another three weeks or more, and the visitors were fully convinced of the importance of the appeal made by the Crows' Nest Pass Highway Association on behalf of the travelling public.

Returning the visitors were taken in charge by Mr. G. Chare, of Coleman, who placed his motor boat at their disposal, and a cruise was made along the south shore of the lake to the extreme western end. The party landed at several points, where an explanation of the line as mapped out by Mr. Woods was made.

No more ideal day could be had for the trip to the lake, and the number who took part showed that the public of The Pass were behind the agitation brought to bear by the new highways association. Included in the party were, besides the visitors, M. L. Jordan, J. S. and Mrs. Windsor, O. E. Sinclair, L. Duff, W. L. Oumette, Alex. Cameron, Joe Fajni, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, A. W. Robbins, R. L. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Patterson, Rev. W. T. Young, S. Fromm, W. J. Bartlett, E. W. Thompson, R. H. Paton, W. Chappell, T. W. Davies, A. M. Morrison, J. E. Gillis, J. C. Boudreau, Geo. Chare and H. G. Goodlove.

Return was made to Coleman in the evening, where an informal meeting took place in the town hall. The chair was occupied by Mayor Morrison, who asked the minister of public works to attend the meeting. Mr. Stewart considered that the building of a road along the south side of the lake was quite feasible and could be built at a very nominal cost, but he did not think that anything more than preliminaries in the way of surveying and marking off the line would be done this year. While fully convinced of the necessity for this new road, the financial condition of the province did not permit of the necessary outlay immediately, and they were compelled to confine their efforts towards keeping the present thoroughfare in the best possible condition until the time was ripe for the building of the better inter-provincial highway. He would have his surveyors go over the proposed route and lay their plans and specifications before his department, but beyond this he could not promise anything but to keep the old road in repair. He stated that one piece of road more than any other in the southern part of the province, and which had a particular interest to us as a part of this great highway, that needed immediate attention, was from Brackett to Pincher, which had to be attended to almost immediately. There were other points along the itinerary of the present trip from which strong appeals had been made for improved road conditions, which would have to receive a share of his consideration. He was pleased to find that the appeals made from the Crows' Nest Pass were backed up so strongly by the citizens of The Pass, as was clearly evidenced by his trip, and he felt that where the public interest was so clearly demonstrated his attention should be more particularly directed.

Mr. Cameron in a brief speech moved a vote of thanks to the minister and his staff for their visit, which motion was duly seconded by Mr. Gillis.

Oddfellows Pincher Creek Attend Service

Pincher Creek, May 1.—The L.O.O.F. No. 3 and their sister lodge, the Alexandra Lodge No. 8, attended the Methodist service on Sunday evening in commemoration of the 45th anniversary of Oddfellowship. The service was held in the opera house on account of the necessary space used to accommodate the large congregation, and was conducted by the Rev. Bro. A. A. Lytle. This was the fourth year in succession these lodges have had the opportunity of hearing Mr. Lytle, and on each occasion the entire service has been exceedingly good and the sermon most excellent. The Rev. brother thoroughly explained the high ideal taught in Oddfellowship and inspired very forcibly the need of living up to that ideal by every member of the order.

No. 3 lodge gathered at the Massey hall and the procession, headed by L.O.O.F. brass band, marched along Bridge and Main streets to the opera house. The members of the order filled the entire centre of the building. Two very pleasing antiphons were well rendered by the choir, and the hymn singing very much improved by the assistance of the orchestra. After the service the members of the order gathered for a few minutes in their lodge room where a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Lytle for the able manner in which he had conducted the service. The members of the Corby lodge were expected to be present but were unable to do so on account of the inclemency of the weather.

Alberta's Wealth

The 9th annual report of the Department of Agriculture which was presented by Hon. Duncan Marshall in legislature, contained some very interesting information regarding the growing wealth of Alberta.

It shows that the increase in dairy products in 1915 was more than 35 per cent. over the preceding year, that the amount of Alberta butter produced during the year reached the total of seven million pounds, and that the total production of grain last year was twice as much as in 1913. Improvements have taken place in the live stock business in the production of the dairy crops, in growing roads and vegetables, and increasing interest is seen in horricultural work.

The whole report was optimistic and the ring and indicates that from an impartial point of view the province is in fine shape.

The Robbers of Belgium

Not content with murder and torture the Belgians, Germany is now stealing everything they possess. The country is being systematically plundered of everything from art treasures which might attract the foreign Croquet Prince to coal from the Charlevoix mines. These roadside, textile products, even the copper from the church roofs, have all been sent to Germany, and the aftermath has been inflicted on the better class people in order to reduce them to the poverty that already afflicts three millions of their compatriots.

In an effort to relieve the suffering population, the British government, Sir Edward Grey, on behalf of the British government, asked Germany to guarantee through the neutral relief commission the free importation of raw materials and the regular export of manufactured goods made from such materials. In this way, it was hoped, the Belgian people could escape themselves from the state of imperious to which the Hun has reduced them.
Germany has taken no notice of Great Britain's request.

Belgium must be further aided.
Her sufferings are not yet complete. The front upon her wall is capable of still more evil than she has accomplished.
Evidently he seeks to reduce the unhappy people of his murderous deeds to beggary in Germany, or, worse still, to enter the Hun military factories and make shells to be used to kill their brethren as gallantly fighting in the trenches of Flanders.

But the Allies will know how to exact vengeance. They have realized sufficiently their determination to fight and Belgium is restored and fully compensated for all the suffering she has undergone. Germany is simply piling up a damning record against the day of reckoning.

And that day of reckoning is fast approaching—Pro-Belgium.

A Million Men

In this gigantic war, the word "millions" is in everybody's mouth and has become a verbal common place. Yet it is difficult, indeed, to form any conception of what a million really means.
An army of one million men, marching for an hour, would extend over a line of 400 miles and take many days in the march past. An American Exchange states that the things needed to outfit a million soldiers are:

750,000 rifles and bayonets for them and their horses.
250,000 machine guns, light machine guns.
8,000 machine guns, the military artillery.
2,000 light guns to batter down attacks.
165,000 carts to carry them into their lines, and as many more for each succeeding fight.

2,500,000 shells and shrapnel for use in the trenches.
300,000 pairs of shoes for the men in action.

100,000 horses to carry them and pull their own carriages.
100,000 pairs of boots to haul their supplies and pack their guns.

5,000 wagons to transport their supplies and ammunition.
100,000 cartage loads for their ammunition.

1,000,000 first aid packets to bind up their wounds.
1,000,000 bandages to keep them dry.
1,000,000 canteens.
Each of them must have uniform and equipment.
1,000,000 shelter halves to protect them from the weather.

2,000,000 blankets to keep them warm.
2,000,000 pairs of shoes.
2,000,000 uniform coats, breeches, leggings, suits of underwear.
1,000,000 hats.
2,000,000 shirts.
4,000,000 pairs of socks.
1,000,000 overalls.
Finally they must eat.
1,000,000 pounds of meat per day.
1,000,000 pounds of bread each day.
2,000,000 pounds of vegetables each day.
2,000,000 pints of coffee or tea each day.

All this must be purchased, transported and cooked each day, and to eat it they must have:

1,000,000 cups.
1,000,000 plates.
1,000,000 knives.
1,000,000 forks.
1,000,000 spoons.
To provide for proper care, training, and food in battle they should have 25,000 trained officers.

If one million men should apply to the recruiting office it would require the uninterrupted effort of 1,000 recruiting working day and night for more than ten days to enroll and enlist them. It would require a week to move them to the camps, provide all the country were given over to this work alone.

One thousand men would have to work day and night for ten days to erect the tents for them, and when completed the camp would amount to a city of more than 10,000 tents, covering an area of more than 8,000 acres, an area equal to the size of a city like Montreal.

Britain has undertaken the arduous and supplying of five armies such as this, this is modern war.

The Royal Gwent

Those who had the pleasure of visiting the Coleman opera house on Saturday night were served with a rare treat by the Royal Gwent Welsh Male Choir, which is without a parallel. Every member of the party is an accomplished vocalist and carries credentials and recognition of competency from musical societies throughout the English speaking world. The following programme was rendered on Saturday night: Every item was of the highest class, but

Through the kindness of the conductor Mr. David John, a special concert was given in the Coleman opera house Sunday afternoon, when a collection was taken up for the benefit of the Patriotic Fund.

The opera house, on the night of Sunday, was crowded to the brim, and the collection amounted to over $800.

A varied programme of choruses, songs, trios and quartets was rendered. One of the most pleasing of the secret, which was the popular "There's a land that is fairer than this," and of the hymns "When Thou shalt see a sinner." Unfortunately the local band was not present, or his thoughts would have been carried back to the good old days when he attempted to be a follower of immortal Hank Wagon.

The czar of Russia's winter palace at Pétzgrad is probably the most magnificent royal residence in the world. Many of its rooms, of which there are over 700, are of enormous size. The most valuable collection of china known is also kept in the palace.

The War Book of 1916

It would perhaps be too much to say that the Agricultural War Book, issued for free distribution by the Federal Department of Agriculture, is the most complete book ever published in Canada entirely devoted to the subject of which it minutely treats. Yet it varies it certainly is. Besides the general matter brought together by the editor, the Commissioner of Agriculture, some seventy agricultural and educational experts have contributed to its 250 pages, including the Federal Ministers of Agriculture and Finance, the Live Stock Commissioner, and Dairy Commissioner for the Dominion, chiefs and sub-chiefs of various departments and divisions, federal and provincial, and professors at the Ontario and other agricultural colleges.

While there are statistics of the world's as well as of Canada's products and year for purposes of comparison, and two of the most three years preceding, the book is a long way from being confined to figures. On the contrary it contains page upon page of textual information, instruction and sound advice pertaining to its title—

"Production and Thrift." Not alone would the farmer and breeder be the better for its study but every household, every citizen would profit by following its counsel, which, in a general sense is embodied in the motto that appears on the front cover, namely: In War Time, Produce more and save more. Make your labour efficient. Save material from waste. Spend your money wisely.
